Summer 2012 Employment Opportunities:

Instructor and Teaching Assistant

The Johns Hopkins University Center for Talented Youth (CTY) is seeking instructors and teaching assistants for our summer programs. CTY offers challenging academic programs for highly talented elementary, middle, and high school students from across the country and around the world. Information regarding our summer programs can be found at www.cty.jhu.edu/summer. Positions are available at residential and day sites at different locations on the east and west coasts.*

We are currently seeking individuals with expertise in a number of Computer Science related subjects:
- Introduction to Robotics (course description)
- Foundations of Programming (course description)
- Fundamentals of Computer Science (course description)
- Data Structures and Algorithms (course description)

Why teach for CTY?
- opportunity to teach motivated and talented students a subject they love
- limited class size (maximum of 18 students) ensures a low student-teacher ratio
- all classes are taught by both an instructor and teaching assistant
- opportunity to work in an environment with colleagues who share similar interests
- competitive salary plus room and board at our residential sites

2012 Program Core Dates:
- Session 1: June 21 - July 14, 2012
- Session 2: July 14 - August 4, 2012
