Startup Company Seeking Technical Cofounder -- Students Welcome

Start-up student retail app looking for an experienced web and iOS developer to partner with us to design, build, and maintain our new app and website. You will join the team as a co-founder and take over all technical aspects of our project. We are looking for someone who is enthusiastic about the idea and wants to take our project to the next level.

QUICK FACTS:
The idea is developed by students at the Harvard Business School (HBS) with a strong back-up from professors and serial entrepreneurs.

Our business plan has been formed and is being proven effective, now we just need our app and website to accelerate to catch up with our progress on the ground. We have the support of Harvard and other universities and will be seeking funding this Spring, so this is a very exciting time to get involved!

The idea is revolutionary and has the potential to scale up very fast.

ABOUT YOU:

- We understand that you will be busy with your workload but we expect a reasonable amount of time dedicated to the project
- Self-starter
- Work hard/play hard attitude. We need someone we can get along with
- We would prefer undergraduate/graduate students in the Boston area, but will consider the elderly as well
- Ready to be part of a revolutionary idea!

REQUIREMENTS:

- You are located in the Boston Area can start working immediately.
- Deep understanding of and experience developing in one or many of the following languages: PHP, Ruby, Python.
- Proven front-end experience working with HTML/HTML5, JavaScript/JQuery, iOS, Android and CSS.
- Ability to communicate effectively with non-technical team members.
- Knowledge of and ability to implement best SEO practices.

If you have a proven track record with other languages or relational databases systems we are open to working on any platform.

If you are interested please email to jkhoury@mba2014.hbs.edu with a resume and either a portfolio of past projects or links to apps and websites that you have worked on. For more information, contact 617.816.5794. We look forward to hearing from you!
