Homesite is a unique and innovative national property and casualty insurance company. Partnering with major insurance carriers and led by a management team with extensive experience, Homesite is carving out a position as a homeowners' solutions provider.

We are currently seeking intelligent, analytical and energetic individuals to join our Web Development team for the summer to work on our state of the art web applications and web services.

What’s in it for you?
- Real world experience on working on high traffic/ high volume ecommerce web applications/services
- Hands-on programming experience in ASP.Net, C#, JavaScript, AJAX, jQuery, HTML 5, JSON, WCF, XML, SQL Server.
- Work on cutting edge and latest web development technologies including mobile development

Must Have:
- Passion for technology
- Programming experience or relevant coursework in an object oriented language
- Strong problem solving skills
- Attention to detail, retention and a strong work ethic

Nice to Have:
- Graphic design experience
- Understanding of design patterns, especially the MVC and Command pattern

Please send your cover letter and resume to ggulati@homesite.com